Long John Saver Fall Newsletter

Teaching kids to save money is a hugely important task because it can benefit them throughout their lives.

Saving can start with something as simple as a weekly allowance for chores they might be able to do around the house or yard.

Our Coins for Community partner, the Sarah Michelle Peterson Foundation, provides mental- health based educational programs for teens and adults.

Operation Spend Smart

(Turbo-fy Your Savings Power)

Savingtown is in danger! Its savings power is very low. If Pirate Spendit hatches one of his schemes, people may spend (and lose!) all their money.

Here's where you come in... Help people save money by shopping smarter. If they find the same item for less, they'll save more.

Let's start with our Long John Saver heroes. See if you're a smart spender...

John wants a new cape and his budget is $20

ITEM	DETAILS	COST
Cape 1	Brand New Model	$20
Cape 2	Older but super-powered	$14.50

THE DECISION: Cape 2 is the smart choice. John can still defeat Pirate Spendit AND have money left over.

Charlotte wants to add a rocket charger to her ship's engine! Her budget is $35

ITEM	DETAILS	COST
Charger 1	Simple but state-of-the-art	$22
Charger 2	100 features she doesn't need	$28

THE DECISION: Charger 2 is cool, but Charger 1 has everything Charlotte needs (and she'll save $6).
